

Most Practical Method

Plan Blotter Type Oiling Vulcan Streets Next Year

Members of the town council, looking for an answer to the problem of how to improve the condition of Vulcan streets, have recently visited other towns where various methods of surfacing for dust control have been tried.

After careful study of these operations and taking into consideration the question of costs, it has been decided that the most practical method within the financial ability of the town is the "blotter" system, whereby asphalt oil is applied to the streets with an over-coating of sand. This method has been used in High River for some years and has proven very satisfactory.

Certain difficulties have arisen this year which would make it impossible to have the work done before September and it has therefore been considered advisable to postpone this work until spring or early summer of 1957, when a more extensive program can be undertaken. In the meantime, materials can be stockpiled and plans for the work completed so that traffic in town will not be unduly inconvenienced.

SERVICE BOARD NOTES

H. S. Burns, Field Supervisor

Cut those roadside weeds. On roadsides that were not sprayed early or not at all, it will be noted that a tremendous growth of weeds has taken place over the past few weeks, it may be any of a dozen varieties and in some cases have reached a height of three or four feet. These should be cut now before harvest, and you who are living next to these roads will benefit most when next winter comes, and the whole area will benefit in appearance. Many farmers in the County have already done this job and anyone will agree that it is a worthwhile effort. If your roadsides are filled up with Bromo grass growth, it would be best to cut later in the season after growth has ceased unless it is possible to rake and put the grass up for hay. If this swath is left on the ground it is very difficult to mow if it becomes necessary to do so again later in the season.

In many instances the policy of seeding down roadsides to grass is beginning to pay off in a lessening of weedy growth; with ordinary circumstances this takes about three years to take place. Back-sloping of roads, of course, is the first step.

Girl Guides Enjoy Camp

The third annual Girl Guide Camp held at Arrow Rock Camp (in the valley of the East Arrowwood Creek on Russel Culp's farm) was attended by eleven Guides from Arrowwood Company and nine guides from the Vulcan Company. A pleasant week was enjoyed under the able leadership of Commandant Ella Hayes who holds her full Camper's License, and Assistant Commandant Captain Caroline Graham of Vulcan. The meals were under the supervision of Quartermaster Olga Hess assisted by Eleanor Oberholtzer, Lois Hayes, Joan Warden and Ann Bollinger. Patrol leaders were Frances Earl, Cassie Graham, Carolyn Hayes and Pat Bollinger.

The girls lived in tents and enjoyed a full and varied program of outdoor activities. Due to the adequate staff and help from the experienced campers of other years some fifty tests were studied and passed. One of the highlights of the camp was the hike where the girls cooked their food on rocks, frying bacon and eggs. Sunday dinner was the barbecued beef, cooked in a pit.

Provincial Camp Supervisor Beth Riddock and Provincial Steward Mrs. Williams of Edmonton visited the camp on Wednesday, July 25 and expressed themselves as very pleased with the camp. Later in the day Mrs. T. Betton, District Camp Advisor and Commissioner Moore of High River paid an inspection visit. Two former campers, Ella Leadbeater and Diane Collier spent a day and night in camp.

Sunday, visitors day, was pleasant. Many friends and parents came to see the camp, some bringing lunch and staying for Campfire. The highlight of the evening came when Baby John Russel Collier was christened "Mowgli" and chosen Camp Mascot.

Tuesday the girls "struck camp" and everyone started home full of plans for next year.

Many Pay Respects To Bob Loose

An overflow crowd of some 250 people more than filled Bethel Lutheran Church on Friday afternoon for the funeral service of Bob Loose, district farmer who passed away on Monday evening, July 30th at the age of 43.

The high esteem in which he was held was amply demonstrated by the floral tributes adorning the church and by the memorials given in his name.

Pastor Lowell Guebert comforted the bereaved with a message entitled "An Answer to a Prayer", and based on John 17:24, "Father, I will that they also, who thou hast given me, be with me where I am; that they may behold my glory..."

Besides those who travelled to Magrath for the interment, another group of friends from the district was on hand to pay their last respects. Floral tributes and memorial gifts were received from a large number of friends and relatives.

Swim Meet This Thursday

Instruction Given To 545 Swimmers This Year

Swimming and water safety lessons at the Vulcan and District Memorial Swimming Pool have proven highly popular again this summer. In the first three classes, each lasting two weeks, enrollments show 370 beginners, 68 juniors, 47 intermediates and 15 seniors have been given instruction. In addition, 45 ladies have availed themselves of special classes which started in June and still continue. This makes a grand total of enrollments to date of 545.

The Vulcan Lions, who operate the swimming pool, have expressed some concern over the rapidly diminishing number of enrollments in the intermediate and senior classes. In an effort to maintain interest in the higher standards of swimming, they have resumed the annual swim meets, with this event taking place on Thursday of this week. It is hoped that competition with others within the county will be an incentive to qualify as senior swimmers. It is also in the intermediate and senior classes that the most important features of water safety are stressed.

No enrollments have yet been received for a class starting Monday, Aug. 13, and continuing to Saturday, Aug. 19. If sufficient enrollments are received, classes will be conducted the last two weeks period. Enrollments may be made this week or by having the swimmers at the swimming pool at 9:30 on Monday morning, Aug. 13.

Wins Honors In Palomino Class

Ken Orchard's entry in the Palomino class at the recent High River Horse Show won two of the top honors in this class. His horse, Blondie, was chosen winner in the Palomino saddle class, winning the Royal Bank of Canada Trophy, and ridden by Louie Palmer, also placed second in the Gentleman's saddle horse riding class.

Blondie was born and raised on the Lawrence Orchard farm east of Vulcan, is three years old, and was sired by Spiller's Gold Dust, formerly of High River.

Granum White Sox defeated the Spokane Builders in the finals to take top money of $1500 in the eight-team tournament.

Granum-Vulcan In Ball Playoffs

In a seven-inning exhibition game Vulcan scored a 9 to 8 victory, with pitcher Jerry Burcher going all the way. Birkle slammed two home runs in this game, Marty Norman got a four-bagger, Don Jantzie a double and single, Bill Davidson three singles and Ben Dann three singles. ## See Pictures of Hawaii Trip

The Keystone Class of the Church of Christ met at the home of Mrs. George Reath for August.

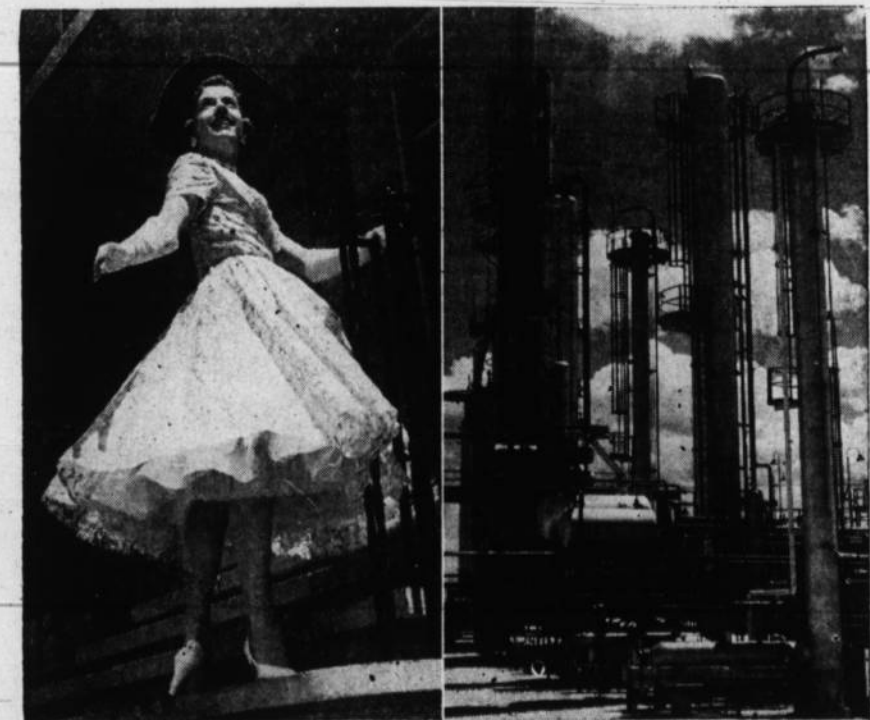

After the opening prayer and scripture reading Mrs. Deans welcomed the ladies.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and the roll call responded to by those present giving the name of their favorite Bible character.

Mrs. Deans gave a short report on a Bible Handbook in connection with Mr. George Mueller's life work and Orphanage in England, recommending that this book be used for Bible study.

Miss Mabel Reath sang a solo. After a silent prayer Mrs. Deans closed the meeting when two of the Reath sisters showed pictures on their recent trip to Hawaii, which were very much enjoyed by all.

A very lovely lunch was served by the hostess assisted by her daughters for which a hearty vote of thanks was given.

No Excuse For This

We have heard several bitter complaints recently about the thoughtlessness of the construction crews working on No. 23 highway, who detour motorists off the highway to a side road but don't bother erecting further signs to bring them back to the highway once the construction area is passed.

While in Lethbridge at a convention last weekend we met motorists who, enroute from Calgary, had obeyed the detour sign and then found themselves ten miles east of the highway before they realized something was wrong and stopped at a farmhouse for directions. They were unhappy, to say the least.

This lack of direction signs is particularly inconvenient at night, but even in daylight a motorist unfamiliar with the district can end up miles out of his way. There is no excuse for these detour roads not being marked for their entire length. Whether it's the responsibility of the construction companies or of the highways department, we trust that action will be taken to correct this situation.

Tie-up Is Right Here

In a recent news story, the Calgary Herald came up with one reason why there is a tie-up in movement of grain from the Lethbridge division of the CPR. The Herald says that cars are being loaded and then left standing at sidings for indefinite periods and unknown reasons, and cites a case of 150 loaded grain cars standing in the Aldersyde siding for several days.

The northern portion of the province is well taken care of, says the Herald, but there will be a definite inequality of quotas in Southern Alberta by the end of the crop year, with the southern CPR division only getting one-quarter of the number of cars needed per week.

Says the Herald: "The frustrating feature of the whole situation is the inability by the railroad to explain the stalemating of the grain cars. No one seems to be able to come up with a satisfactory answer to the delay."

Grain companies point out that grain sales and demands are good. The tie-up is not at the Pacific terminals. It is here on our own doorsteps."

A picnic was held at the home of Mrs. Melvin Magnuson on July 25 when the W.M.F. members and friends of Milo-Queentown, Enchant, Lomond and Calgary Lutheran Churches gathered there for a quiet celebration to honor Pastor and Mrs. Foster, who were recently married.

A beautiful place in their lovely grove had been prepared by the Magnuson family for the picnic, but Mother Nature took a hand and sent a wind and dust storm just as we were listening to the opening of the program and sent everyone scurrying for shelter, carrying chairs, etc. to the house where all were invited inside and where the program was continued.

Crop conditions in this district are very good, plenty of moisture. In fact some fields of barley and oats are lodging badly from the heavy rains. Spring wheat not quite as good as the durum wheat. Flax crops are very good.

Brant population was increased, a litter of 10 wee puppies by a stray dog underneath the new church hall. The strange noises underneath the church hall which attracted the attention of ladies & members turned out to be 10 little puppies, mothered by a strange dog.

Leonard Smith came to rescue them and took them to his farm.

I am sure any little girl or boy that would like a puppy could have one for the asking. They are little collie dogs.

with its money

Of every dollar Imperial Oil took in last year, more than half went to buy raw materials, such as crude oil.

Operating and administrative costs,
depreciation, and the wages of Imperial's

Just over a tenth went in taxes, not including the road taxes in the various provinces.

Just under nine cents was Imperial's "profit"

was re-invested in the business.

So, of every dollar Imperial took in last

New Techniques Revive Old Designs

The Indian hand weavers of Ecuador were finding it hard to compete with the inexpensive cloths being turned out with modern techniques and their ancient handicraft was gradually dying out. With the help of an expert from the International Labor Organization, the Government set up a school for master weavers where they could learn the new techniques and how to apply them to the weaving of traditional designs. Here a master weaver from Peguche proudly displays a wall-piece he completed at the school under the direction of an ILO expert. The design is Pre-Colombian.

Thistle Control

There is no doubt about Canada thistle and sow thistles being among our most common and troublesome perennial weeds. They can be found on most farm land, and appear to be increasing. No doubt above normal rainfall received during the past several years has been a major contributing factor of this increase in population. Regardless of the cause many farmers are facing a serious thistle problem which is adding to farm operating costs, and subtracting from net income.

This problem has become severe enough on many farms to warrant a well thought out plan of action involving all the sides at our disposal. These sides may be classified into three categories: cultural, competitive crops, and the use of chemical. In some instances cultural methods cannot be used successfully because the infested area is too wet. These cases are especially troublesome, but often can be taken care of during drier periods by cultivation and seeding down to grass. Reed Canary grass grows very well in wet areas. It is certainly a valuable aid in eliminating the thistle problem in many such troublesome spots. If these wet spots are inclined to be alkali, tall wheatgrass will do a good job. The possibility of using these grasses should be seriously considered by every good farmer who is troubled with thistles on low-lying areas.

Cultural methods must be thorough and timely. We have all seen too many instances of severe thistle infestations on good land due to poor farming. People who study these weeds tell us that thorough surface cultivation is just as effective as plowing, the object being merely to eliminate the above ground growth. Implements used must be properly adjusted and the cutting edges sharp. The heavy duty cultivator or the blade type implements are well suited for use in fields infested with thistles. These implements can be used to advantage because of their very heavy strong construction, which enables them to cut all growth. The ordinary duckfoot cultivator is not as suitable for this purpose because the shovels may tend to not cut off very heavy tough growth. The one-way disk can be used but its disks must be kept sharp and the machine properly adjusted. From personal observations I would say that the one-way often does a poor job because of these reasons. Competitive crops, such as fall rye can be often used to advantage especially combined with the use of 2,4-D. Seeding down with grass-legume mixtures is a good control. Such a mixture may not entirely eliminate the thistles but they will be greatly reduced. The few remaining plants can be eradicated with a hand sprayer using 2,4-D.

Famous Trichologist Will Demonstrate How to Grow Thicker Hair - - And Guarantee It!! DEMONSTRATION TO BE HELD HERE

This new method of home treatment for saving and growing thicker hair will be demonstrated in Vulcan, Alberta on Friday ONLY, Aug. 17.

These private individual demonstrations will be held in the Dobbs Hotel on Friday ONLY 12 noon to 9 p. m.

LONDON, ONT. — In an interview here today, Mr. Keele internationally famous trichologist and director of the Keele Hair Experts, Ltd. said: "There are 18 different scalp disorders that cause men and women to lose hair. Using common sense, a person must realize no one tonic or so called cure-all could correct all the disorders," he explained.

GUARANTEED

"The Keele firm, recognizing that most people are skeptical of claims that hair can be grown on balding heads offer a guarantee," Keele said.

Once a person avails himself to the Keele treatment his skepticism immediately disappears. To insure this, we offer this guarantee: "If you are not completely satisfied with your hair progress at the end of 30 days your money will be returned."

HOPELESS CASES DISCOURAGED

First the trichologist is quick to tell hopeless cases that they cannot be helped. But the "hopeless" cases are few. Only if a man is completely, shiny bald is he in this lost category.

If there is fuzz, no matter how light, thin, or colorless, the Keele treatment can perform wonders.

A complete, private examination is given by a trichologist to determine the condition of his scalp and cause for his hair trouble.

FREE EXAMINATIONS

This examination is very thorough and highly technical, it requires 20 to 30 minutes. The trichologist makes no charge for this examination and no appointment is necessary. After the examination the person is told the required length of treatment and how much it will cost.

After starting treatment, the person makes regular reports to the Keele firm in London to check the progress of the home treatment.

To spread the opportunity of normal, healthy hair to the thousands who are desperately looking for help, independent trichologists are visiting various cities to conduct examinations and start home treatment.

NO CURE-ALL

"We have no cure-all for slick shiny baldness," Keele emphasized. "If there is fuzz, the root is still capable of creating hair and we can perform what seems to be a miracle."

There is one thing Keele wants to be certain every man and woman knows. If a recession appears at the temples or a spot begins to show up on the crown of the head, there is something wrong and it should be given immediate attention.

HAIR FOR LIFETIME

"If clients follow our directions during treatment, and after they finish the course, there is no reason why they will not have hair all the rest of their lives," Keele said. "Our firm is definitely behind this treatment, it all depends on the individual client's faithful observation of a few simple rules."

HOW'S YOUR HAIR?

If it worries you, call George Cole at The Dobbs Hotel in Vulcan, Alb., on Friday ONLY, August 17, 12 noon to 9 p.m. The public is invited. You do not need an appointment. The examinations are private and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way.

Even in the realistic business world, fun pays off. Business conversations spiced with a quip or two, linger longer in the memory than those which are deadly serious from beginning to end. One leading business man I have the pleasure of knowing always tries to inaugurate a business conversation with a few pleasantries. It's fun to deal with him.

I also like the pixie quality of some humor. For example, the fun a U.S. taxpayer had with the department of internal revenue recently. The business man had a $200 refund due him, but when the time came to file his 1955 return, the refund had not arrived. With devilish good humor, he simply listed the $200 as a bad debt. Back came a cheque for the $200 in a hurry, with a pleasant letter of apology from the head of the department.

Politicians often suffer from a serious lack of humor. If they had more of a sense of fun in them, they'd see the ridiculous position they are in at election time when promise to spend more and tax less. Quebec's present premier, of course, is an exception; he has a sense of humor, and that may account for his ability to get re-elected.

In the midst of the recent election campaign, he told a political rally: "Any money the government spends comes from the taxes you pay. Don't let any one tell you differently."

FUN

I feel sorry for the man who didn't enjoy a bit of fun yesterday. Every day ought to bring at least a few minutes of real fun to every human being.

One leading business man I have the pleasure of knowing always tries to inaugurate a business conversation with a few pleasantries. It's fun to deal with him.

No cards were played and lunch was served by the ladies.

MAJORVILLE

The big news this week is the heavy electric storms that have passed through the district during the past five days or so, and in that connection our hats are off to two girls from Milo who were camping out four or five days on the Cutforth place now owned by Ivan Winch, father of one of the girls. Darlene Winch and her friend Katherine Beechman had decided on a camping trip on the farm and were camped there on Monday night when a storm came up about ten p.m. There was a lot of heavy lightning but no rain at the start of the storm, and, smelling smoke, the girls went across the road to the farm of Alfred Vinge to find out if something was on fire there. Afterwards it was discovered that the barn on the place now owned by Leonard Vooyos and known as the old O'Tott ranch had been struck by lightning and burned to the ground. Later that night heavy rains came mixed with hail, but there was no wind with the storm, damage to crops doesn't show now, although damage to gardens is evident on cukes, squash and other big leafed plants.

On Wednesday afternoon around supper, another storm visited us, and this one brought more severe lightning than has been seen for many years. The Hugh Winch family were just finishing supper and watching the storm from the kitchen window when a bolt of lightning sent a herd of cows scattering and then they saw a calf had been struck and killed. Before they had time to think, a second bolt hit the house, tripping the circuit breaker on the power line and burning out the telephone. It was later the following day before all the lights were working in the house. The bolt of lightning had damaged one of the switches in the wall. Watching nature on the rampage during an electric storm is very interesting, but when it strikes as close to home as the last three have done it isn't so interesting.

The crops are headed for the bumper type and look excellent at the present time. Some fields with barley are almost ready for the swather so it won't be too long before another harvest will be under way.

The sympathy of the district is extended to T. H. Phillips and family of Milo in their recent bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Clemmons went to Three Hills last Sunday to visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Art Kisinger, and it might be of interest to mention that Adam Young, who taught grade ten in Milo for the term '45-'46, is now in the real estate business in Three Hills.

Leslie Greaves of Calgary recently visited for a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Greaves and Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Henry before going to Bassano to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Avery.

Births are in the news this week so we extend good wishes and congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Godkin on the birth of a daughter in the Vulcan hospital and to Mr. and Mrs. John Bartsch on the birth of a son in the Holy Cross hospital in Calgary.

"Gardener's Gold" from Earthworms

A little-known earthworm, recently imported from Tennessee, promises to be the answer to many of the farmers' most serious problems. The "Red Wiggler", smaller than the common earthworm produces topsoil over 300 times as fast. Burrowing a dozen feet into the earth, the Wiggler builds an inch of topsoil a year.

Captain C. E. Misner, a former lake sailor, who imported the worm says he now needs no sprays or fertilizers on his 400-acre Fenwick, Ont. farm. The worms produce a rich, dark soil which he calls "Gardener's Gold". It grows harder, earlier maturing plants, which resist disease and parasites.

Worm culture first interested Misner when he took over operation of the family farm on retirement; discovered the high cost of commercial fertilizers. Now he sells both worms and compost as far away as Australia, New Zealand and South America.

Preservation of many ancient ruins has been credited to the common earthworm. Tiny as he is, the busy fellow has changed the earth's surface; undermined huge rocks with his excavations. Recently, he has sparked the "worm culture" trend—breeding worms to cultivate the soil. Nature's original farmer, the earthworm not only adds lime from his own system to the soil, but keeps minerals and other organic matter near the surface where plants roots can utilize them.

Less selective than the earthworm, Wigglers are proving a sound bet economically for Misner. They eat almost anything from coffee grounds to vegetable tops, are resistant to heat and cold, breed prolifically. Above, Misner holds a sod filled with worms. Wigglers average from 1-4 inches. National Film Board Photos: Herb Taylor

Crop yields on Misner's Lorraine Gardens farm have increased tremendously through the use of Red Wigglers in the soil. Here, Misner tends strawberry plants whose yield has increased from 4,000-6,000 quarts an acre to an average 14,000 quarts. In background, compost bed where worms are bred.
